OUR STORY

Atlas Wines was founded in 2007 by winemakers Adam Barton and Amy Lane, who have gained recognition for their bright, aromatic white wines and distinctive and expressive reds, including being named as one of James Halliday's Top 10 Best New Wineries.

With six generations of family farming, Atlas Wines is rooted in the land, emphasizing sustainable practices that highlight the unique character of their wines. As Halliday wrote, "angels can do no more." Atlas Wines continues to craft exceptional wines from the Clare and Barossa Valleys and the Adelaide Hills, embodying South Australia's finest terroirs.

OUR PLACE

Atlas Wines produces wine from premium wine growing regions of South Australia:

- Clare Valley
- Barossa Valley
- Adelaide Hills

estate VINEYARDS

WHITE HUT VINEYARD

In Clare Valley's White Hut subregion, this original Atlas Wines vineyard is solely planted with Shiraz, including vines from the 1980s, 2000s, and 2018. The temperate climate and shallow topsoil encourage the vines to produce small, intensely flavored berries, a winemaker's dream.

LEASINGHAM VINEYARD

Atlas Wines acquired the 20-hectare Leasingham Vineyard in 2020, located at the start of Clare Valley's "Golden Mile" among its most iconic vineyards. The vineyard features well-established Riesling and Shiraz vines in their prime, thriving in an elevated, uniform stretch of terra rossa soil.

OUR STATE-OF-THE-ART WINERY

Architecturally designed and nestled in the heart of the Barossa Valley, our winery is purpose-built for thoughtful winemaking.

It's designed to support gently handling of small-parcels of super premium fruit - giving our winemakers the space and freedom to craft with intent and integrity.

A modern winery, build to honour the craft.

WINEMAKING PHILOSOPHY

Our wines are carefully curated with minimal intervention and meticulous attention to detail, reflecting the unique character of each vineyard and vintage.

Our whites are fresh and expressive, uniquely showcasing the personalities of Watervale in the Clare Valley and Woodside in the Adelaide Hills, with bright aromatics, balanced acidity, depth, and complexity.

Our reds combine structure and finesse, offering wines with depth, elegance, and excellent aging potential.

ENGAGING AND TIMELESS LABEL DESIGN

At Atlas Wines, we believe in the power of place, which is why our labels are beautifully designed to reflect this deep connection.

Inspired by the concept of an atlas, each label features an antique celestial map. Just as constellations tell stories in the night sky, our wines tell the story of the exceptional places from which they come.

Like an atlas that brings together remarkable locations, our wines unite the finest vineyards of South Australia's Clare Valley, Barossa Valley, and Adelaide Hills, each bottle offering a unique expression of these celebrated terroirs.
